Do I think celebrities deserve the amount of money they get? Well, when I think about it, I would have to say yes. When celebrities make movies, they have to go through a lot of hard work and give up a lot of time.

When models go from place to place, time after time, then they have less time for their family. Being away from your family can be hard. I think models might even deserve a little bit more.

Athletes go through training at least three months a year. Working, running, and staying in shape, for the season. Some might even train longer.

All celebrities have family to, and has ~~got~~ to have a job, and if being an actor or an athlete is what their dream job is then I think if they work hard at it then they deserve that amounts of money, they get.

I just explained to you why I think they deserve, so maybe in the future people will realize such hard work these celebrities go through to support families just like ours.

Score Point: 3

This response reflects a limited degree of proficiency in persuasive writing skills. The writer clearly states that celebrities deserve the money they make. Two key ideas are presented to support this position (they work hard and give up a lot of time). The response is organized and the writer displays some facility in the use of language. Further development is required for a higher score.
